

BUCKS COUNTY

Designer House & Gardens

2018 Bus & Group Tour Information

April 29 - May 27, 2018

Background

The Bucks County Designer House & Gardens is a fundraising event sponsored by the Village Improvement Association of Doylestown (VIA). Professional interior designers and landscapers are invited to use their imagination, skills, and talent to transform an area home into a stunning estate. The residence, outbuildings and grounds are then opened in May for public tours.

Location

Cedaridge Farm was established in 1790 as a Mennonite dairy farm and fruit tree orchard. It spans more than twenty acres of gardens, meadows, streams, and woodlands. The main stone house includes a glass conservatory, river stone fireplaces, and a unique sleeping porch. There is also a charming gardener's cottage, a 1950s ranch house with Mercer tile bathrooms, and a peg barn. The vast garden areas include a waterfall leading to a pond, a gazebo, a cutting garden, and a nature trail through the woodlands. In 1989 the property was acquired by Derek Fell, a renowned garden author and photographer, and his wife Carolyn Fell, a garden designer.
